Metals

925 Silver: Also called Sterling silver is an alloy made up of 92.5% pure silver and 7.5% other metals, usually copper or zinc. it is an excellent choice for those seeking an affordable option. Because it has Copper or Zinc. You still need to clean your piece once in a while to maintain it's Shine.

Gold Vermeil 18kt: Gold vermeil jewellery is Sterling Silver covered in a thick layer of Gold which looks exactly like real Gold. It is less expensive than pure Gold, so a much-preferred option for everyday jewellery. Keep in mind that overtime, the gold might wear out as friction occurs.

Goldfil 14kt: Gold-filled jewelry is jewelry composed of a solid layer of gold mechanically bonded to a base metal like brass or copper. Gold filled items are perfect if you're looking for a material that is higher quality than gold plated, but an affordable alternative to solid gold. Unlike gold plated, gold filled can last a lifetime if taken care of properly, and isn't affected by water or hot weather. It is also tarnish-free under normal conditions. Unlike Vermeil, Goldfil will not loose it's gold layer as quickly
